

Authors

Joyashree Roy

Dr. Joyashree Roy is currently the ICSSR National Fellow, Professor of Economics, coordinates the Global Change Programme and also directs Ryoichi Sasakawa Young Leaders Fellowship Fund (SYLFF) Project at Jadavpur University in Kolkata, India. She is in IPCC-2007 Nobel Peace Prize winning panel, has been a chapter author of Global Energy Assessment. She has published more than 70 articles in peer reviewed journals. She is interested in multidisciplinary approaches to understanding development challenges. Her research interests are: Economics of Climate Change, Modeling energy demand, Economy-wide modeling exercises for deriving policy implications, Water quality demand modeling, Water pricing, Sustainable development indicator development and estimation, Natural resource accounting, Valuing environmental services, and Developmental and environmental issues relevant for informal sectors, Coastal Ecosystem service evaluation. She has worked extensively with developing country data.

Manisha Dolui

Manisha Dolui completed her undergraduate studies in Zoology as a major from Scottish Church College (2009) and obtained a post graduate degree from University of Calcutta in Environmental Science (2011). She joined Global Change Programme-Jadavpur University (GCP-JU) as Research Assistant and Office Assistant in August 2013. Before joining to GCP-JU she has worked in various multidisciplinary projects under various organizations including her master's thesis under the supervision of a senior scientist from West Bengal Biodiversity Board.